CITY WORKING TO CLEAN UP LITTLE SCIOTO

Pollution of Marion County Stream Pronounced One of Foulest in Ohio

WATER IS TESTED

Correction of Sewer Defects Here Expected To Eliminate Impurities

C... office ... being ... effort to clean up the pol... of the Little Scioto ... Carl H Tow... ... spec...

An article in a recent issue of the Sportsman's Digest written by O M Urban charges Marion county with having one of the worst polluted streams in Ohio Mr Urban says:

Chemical and bacterial analyses were made on samples of water taken from the Little Scioto river on Sept 24 The stream was sampled from a point above the Marion sewage disposal plant to the point near the confluence with the Big Scioto river

One of Worst Is Report

"There exists in the Little Scioto below the Marion sewage disposal plant at the time the writer examined the stream one of the foulest pollutions in the state Alum creek and the Scioto below Columbus not excepted

As shown by tests made the Little Scioto for a distance of several miles below Marion is completely destroyed and the bacteria pollution constitutes a potential source of danger

Tozzer stated this morning that work to correct this situation was being rapidly pushed forward and that the condition as outlined in Mr Urban's article has been remedied to a great extent already

Cause of Trouble

The condition was caused Tozzer said by the failing of the sanitary sewer lines in several places down onto the storm water sewers resulting in damaging both sets of lines so that sewage was carried off by the storm water drain which empties into the Little Scioto

A few weeks ago council appropriated $6 000 for the correction of these breaks and since that time Tozzer states that his men have been rapidly making repairs

JUSTICE STONE

STONE SLATED FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

Latest Washington "Dope" Takes Him Off Bench, Wilbur His Successor?

BY GEORGE R HOLMES
Marion Star Staff Writer

WASHINGTON Feb 9—Herbert Hoover may or may not have completed his cabinet He alone knows and he has been exactly inscrutable on the subject But whether he has or not the volunteer cabinet makers of Washington are proceeding blithely ahead with the parceling out of the jobs

The latest cabinet story going the rounds and one that seemingly will not down deals with Federal Justice Harlan F Stone who is slated to succeed Attorney General Mitchell The story goes that Justice Stone has found the supreme bench cold to his interpretation of the law as it affects the courts and has decided to return to the practice of law

Stone is said to be desirous of more money than he is receiving as a member of the court and has stated that he wishes to leave the bench and undertake the small task of reforming the department of justice as a matter of public service He served as attorney general for many months before his elevation to the bench That brief experience is said to have whetted his appetite for the task

The resignation of Justice Stone would create a vacancy of course and

CHANGES BEING MADE IN WABC TRANSMITTER

IMPORTANT alterations in WABC's five kilowatt broadcasting transmitter are being made that are expected to give the Columbia key station one of the finest modulation systems in the United States

Outstanding of these changes in equipment is the new modulation panel which is now being installed as a part of the main transmitting unit at Jamaica Bay Long Island

When installation of the new equipment is completed WABC will be the only 5 KW broadcasting station in the state with the exception of WHAM of Rochester having incorporated those newest features of the broadcasting world it is stated by engineers of Graybar who are in charge of the work

To the radio listener the improvement here new technical features will mean it is said a vastly improved quality of reception a doubling in area of broadcast reception on a stabilized frequency which will enable the station to be picked up on the same receiver dial setting at all times and under all conditions and complete elimination of distortion in transmission of the program

THE TRUTH about CHICAGO GANGLAND

AN AMAZING FACT STORY of its purposes, its methods, its notorious characters, its relentless revenge

WRITTEN BY THE DEAN OF AMERICAN JOURNALISTS

JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT

IN TOMORROW'S

Chicago Sunday Tribune

WHAT is the hidden purpose behind Chicago Gangland's murderous warfare? The Booze Racket? Vice? Power? Money? James O'Donnell Bennett, master writer of the Chicago Tribune and Dean of American Journalists, was assigned to make a thorough study of Chicago Gangland. He reveals the truth in a sensational story now appearing serially in the Chicago Sunday Tribune. Start it tomorrow!

Gangland's murders, its notorious leaders, its gigantic wealth, its daring contempt for law and order, are fearlessly exposed in this remarkable fact-story. Here is the truth about such notorious Ganglords as Dion O'Banion, Johnny Torrio, Louis Alterie, Hymie Weiss, the Genna Brothers and others.

And how Bennett can write! A vivid, glowing, vibrant word-picture of Chicago Gangland's emotions, its conceits, its artful strategy, its devil-may-care attitude toward life.

Here is a story you must not miss! A complete synopsis of the first installment, which was published last Sunday, will be printed tomorrow, together with the second installment. Order your Chicago Sunday Tribune in advance from your newsdealer.

Sabbath Made for Man

— A SERMONETTE —
BY THE REV E RADEBAUGH
Pastor, Calvary Evangelical Church

"THE SABBATH WAS MADE FOR MAN" Mark 2 27

The Sabbath is adapted to man's physical life

The proclamation is established by observation that experience has taught man finds it necessary that he should rest one day in seven in order to recruit his exhausted faculties and if he keeps this day as he should he can resume his labors on Monday morning with renewed vigor and activity

Experience proves that laborers need one seventh part of the time for rest As this is true in relation to those who literally earn their bread by the sweat of the brow it is true also in regard to those whose labor is mainly mental The man of letters who neglects his mind to study on the Sabbath as on other days will overtax his mind and will accomplish less than he would by observing the Lord's day as a day of rest Eminent physicians tell us The Sabbath is naturally adapted to man's physical constitution that its observance is promotive of his health and that its desecration brings on premature decay and death

The Sabbath is adapted to man as a member of civil society

If the observance of the Sabbath is promotive of man's mental improvement it qualifies him for usefulness as a member of society as a father a citizen or a statesman

The usefulness of men especially in their intelligence

It matters not how intelligent a man may be if he leads a wicked life his example and influence will lay the very foundation of true piety For the observance of the Sabbath is eminently calculated to promote moral and religious intelligence Its genius fathers teachers senators governors and presidents It is a well known fact that nine-tenths of the inmates of prisons are those who do not regard the Sabbath as it were not in the habit of attending public worship

The Sabbath is adapted to man's spiritual nature

That man is by nature a sinful depraved and guilty being that in order to effect this salvation it is unconditionally necessary that he be regenerated and sanctified by the Word and Spirit of God and justified by faith in the atoning merits of the Redeemer Some one has said No Sabbath no religion

Erase the law of the Sabbath or the Lord's day from the statute books of every Christian land let the institution be regarded as a dead letter in the Bible and as no longer binding on man and you destroy our Holy Christmastide from the earth Infidel France was well aware of this She knew that if she could abolish the Sabbath Christianity would fall Infidels in our own land at the present day are well aware of this fact Hence their powerful and often repeated efforts to abolish the Sabbath and thus overthrow the mighty bulwark of Christianity Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy

When professed Christians observe the Sabbath in a proper manner and require their children and all under their roof to do so their example will exert a powerful influence upon the world Blessed is the man that doeth this and the son of man that layeth on it that keepeth the Sabbath from pollution, it'

Fannie Brice, whose youth has defied something like sixty passing years, has become the wife of Billy Rose, the Broadway songwriter. Henceforth, we assume "My Man" will be "My Rose."

The attorneys of the assassin of President-Elect Obregon, of Mexico, are seeking an injunction to prevent his execution, setting up that his crime was a political one. Maybe so, but it may be noted that the former president is mighty thoroughly dead.

A Havana cable says 43,735 Americans visited Cuba last month, establishing a new record. It's simply amazing that liquid delight possesses the hold on erring humanity that it does.

Major General John A. Lejune has announced that he will retire, March 5, as commander of the "Soldiers of the Sea." The general is getting up in years, and naturally may want to see what it feels like to live in his home land.

A Philadelphia policeman has been arrested for operating a still in the navy yard there. It probably never occurred to him to set up his plant in the rotunda of the city hall and save the cost of trucking.

Why should the Paris press worry over the fact that the United States wants to be on something of an equality with Great Britain in the matter of naval vessels? It's a cinch that we aren't going to build up our navy with any of the money France owes us.

Professor Luigi Volta, director of the University of Turin observatory, has discovered a new planet, but it's probably one of the telescopic variety so small that you haven't a chance in a million to see it even slippery as the walks usually are at this season of the year.

A plan is afoot in Illinois for compulsory publication of payrolls by public bodies together with a detailed report of all expenditures, but we can't just decide whether the Illinois newspapers are behind the plan as a result of self-interest or it's merely the result of a longing on the part of the good people of the Sucker state to get a list of the state's patriots for pay that they, the good citizens, may better understand why their political division is so named.

We take it that if Senator Norris wants to get up on the floor of the senate and make an appeal to the stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana to oust Colonel Stewart there is no way to prevent him, but what we can not understand is why the Nebraska senator should wish thus to handicap Mr. Rockefeller in his campaign to get the colonel out of the chairmanship of the board.

The Vatican State.

After Sunday the Vatican will be recognized as a separate state.

Announcement comes from Rome that an agreement has been reached by and between the Quirinal and the Vatican, which is to be memorialized by a treaty to be signed Sunday afternoon, by the terms of which the powers lost by the Papacy in 1870 will be restored and the so-called "Roman question" will have been ended after a controversy which has been waged for fifty-nine years.

The new papal state will include the present Vatican and Vatican grounds, St. Peter's square and colonnades. Here the Pope will have the right to erect his own railway station, telegraph, telephone, postal and wireless stations. He will be entitled to have an aviation field and will enjoy the right to coin money, issue banknotes, print postage stamps and exercise other official prerogatives.

In addition to the Vatican, St. John Lateran, the Cancelleria palace and the Villa Castelgandolfo, which already enjoy extra-territoriality, the Italian government will grant special privileges and immunities to the Basilica of St. Paul', various papal buildings and churches in Rome, the Basilica Loreto near Ancona, that of St Anthony at Padua and the Basilica of St Francis at Assisi.

The treaty provides that all crimes committed on Vatican territory will be judged by the Italian courts according to Italian laws, which are to be modified to conform to canon law, for which the Popes of the Roman Catholic church have been contending for 1,116 years.

In consideration of the Pope's renunciation of any important enlargement in his territory the Italian government authorized an increase in the amount of the indemnity paid to the Holy See to 2,000,000 non lire, about $105,000,000. Half of this amount will be paid immediately in cash or bonds of the Italian government. The other half will be paid in yearly installments plus interest.

It was at the insistence of Pope Pius XI that it should be stipulated that he was to have no subjects, but he was equally insistent that his sovereignty as ruler of a separate state should be recognition. That recognition given him, after Sunday the Pope will feel free to forego the restriction, put upon themselves since 1870 by the popes, and leave the Vatican grounds wherever he may desire.

That the "Roman question" was not settled long ago and is settled only now is easy of understanding. Without any disparagment of the forerunners of the present pontiff and the present premier, it may be said that never before in almost three score years has there been a strong pontiff and a strong premier in power at the same time. The present situation is exceptional in that Pope Pius and Premier Mussolini are strong men, possibly the strongest two to rule in Rome at one time in history. These men, in their strength, had no fear of being misjudged, the one by the other, nor were they afraid of being misunderstood by the world, hence the result to be signalized by the signing of the treaty tomorrow.

Fifteen hundred supporters of Leon Trotzky have been placed under arrest and Trotzky is missing. There's never any telling. Since Russia was taken over by the arch criminals whose slogan is "Liberty and Equality," "missing" has repeatedly been found to be nothing more than a synonym for "dead."

And now Colorado has amended its habitual criminal act to make a violation of the prohibition law, when it brings a fourth conviction, punishable by life imprisonment. Honestly, these state legislators seem to be endeavoring to take the joy of living away from our "good, law-abiding citizens" given to indulgence in the flowing bowl.

The Federal Reserve board is being roundly criticized for taking action to end the wild orgy of speculation in New York by making the borrowing of money hard, but why should it not take such action? Why should the Federal Reserve board make the interests of gamblers in Wall street paramount to those of the business men of the country?

Ship Sale Temporarily Blocked.

There is a report afloat to the effect that the senate has interested itself in the proposed sale of the United States and Merchant lines owing to its understanding that Paul W. Chapman & Company, of Chicago, the favored bidders, are not seeking the vessels of the two lines with a view to operating them, but are seeking them merely as the agents of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. It is somewhat difficult to credit this report for the reason that the chief concern of the United States senate should be to assure the operation of the vessels under the United States flag by a corporation, firm or individual of sufficient financial means or backing to guarantee service for the term of years specified in the contract of sale.

Surely there can be no question of the Pennsylvania's willingness to meet the first stipulation or qualify regarding the second. Nor is it easy to see what ground for objection there can be to that railroad as a purchaser. For years the Pennsylvania has operated a fleet of fine steamships on the Great lakes, and the success it has attained on the lakes should be something of a guarantee of what it would do if engaged in the transatlantic service. More than that, the Canadian Pacific railroad may be cited to demonstrate the possibilities of a steamship line operated by a railroad. The Canadian Pacific operates fleets upon both the Atlantic and the Pacific, and only those who have patronized its ships can appreciate to the full the service it renders.

We do not believe that this railroad angle, which is stoutly denied by the Pennsylvania people, is the real reason why the senate has asked that the sale to the Chapman interests be held up till the senate committee on commerce is able to look into the matter. Our belief is that there may be question in the senate whether or no the Chapman bid of $16,300,000 is the highest and best bid. Sixteen million, three hundred thousand dollars is a lot of money, but probably not more than the Leviathan alone is worth, and in addition to the Leviathan, the purchasers will get the George Washington, America, Republic, President Harding and President Roosevelt, of the United States lines, and the American Merchant, American Farmer, American Banker, American Shipper and American Trader of the American Merchant line. And all these eleven vessels will pass to the Chapman people, if its bid is approved, not for $16,300,000 in cash, but for a little over $4,000,000 in cash or its equivalent and a credit of $12,000,000. But this is not all. Not only will the Chapman people get the two fleets for $4,000,000 and their paper for $12,000,000, but the government will go further and loan them $31,500,000, representing seventy-five per cent. of the price of two new liners to be constructed at a cost of $28,000,000 each, for taking the eleven vessels off its hands.

Putting the Chapman bid in this light, it is not impossible that some of the other bids submitted for the purchase of the eleven vessels named may be held by the senate to be superior to the one favored by the Shipping board.

In any event, no matter which bid, if any, may be accepted, the loss taken to get the government out of the shipping business will be staggering. Despite such sales of vessels as has been made, invariably at but a mere fraction of the cost price, the government experiment in the shipping business has cost the taxpayers not hundreds of millions, but billions, and we are not much further along the way toward a real merchant marine today than we were ten years ago, when we began to turn out ships, such ships, were in mass production.

STOP CROAKING WAR.

Something Wrong If Always Cold.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Frequently I am asked to explain the significance of chilliness, or the actual chill which is frequently the first symptom of influenza or some other disease. Many of the serious diseases are ushered in with this symptom.

Frequent chilliness may be an evidence of impairment of the circulation. The heart is not functioning as it should. It does not drive the blood in forceful streams to every part of the body. This in turn comes from some impairment of the bodily vigor.

There are many things that lower human vitality. Overwork, loss of sleep, need of a vacation, domestic discord, lack of human interest, as well as the many infections to which the body is subject, may be the cause for lowered vitality of which chilliness is a symptom.

It is tremendously important that every one should eat regularly. Everybody should take enough of the nourishing foods which are essential to good health and red blood.

Lots of times you feel down and out when the whole trouble is you are hungry. Don't you know how cross you feel and how impossible life seems about 6:45 in the evening. You may not realize that you are hungry, but a cup of hot broth, followed by a sensible meal, will give you a new outlook on life.

This fact does not excuse a wild orgy of eating. To crowd your stomach with a tremendous meal is always inexcusable. Certainly that sort of a meal is not called for when you have the feeling I have described.

There can be no doubt, however, that if you linger too long over your work, if you get thoroughly worn out with it, you are making unreasonable demands upon your body. You are abusing your heart and blood vessels. Under the strain to which you have subjected your organs, you could not expect to have an abundance of blood sent to every part of your body.

Chilliness may be merely a symptom of that lowered vitality. This is temporary, of course, but it is very real in its production of symptoms of discomfort.

The blood needs to be replenished and purified all the time. It must have an abundance of oxygen in order to do its work of healing and building.

To have the blood in proper condition, oxygen is essential. To this end deep breathing is of vital importance. You should stand in front of the window several times a day and take a multitude of long, deep breaths. This will do much to supply your blood with elements essential to health and vigor. You will be surprised to find how deep and rapid breathing will warm the body and remove the feeling of chilliness.

Don't get into your head the idea that every time you feel chilly you are going to be sick. This is not the case. But unless there are very obvious reasons why you are chilly, it is because you are neglecting some of the things which make for good circulation and good health.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

C. W. Q—What can be done for holes or enlarged pores left by pimples?

A—Try alternate application of hot and cold compresses for five or ten minutes twice daily. Avoid the excessive use of powder and cold cream which tends to clog the pores and thus coarsen the grain of the skin.

Editorial Opinion.

MR. ROOT'S MISSION.

Elihu Root, the Nestor of American statesmen, will seek in Europe an understanding with its governments which will bring about the entry of the United States into the World court, with the reservations attached by the senate. The former secretary of state is to sail soon as an unofficial emissary of the government, with the backing of the administration in his efforts to straighten out the tangle in which the adherence of the United States to the World court has become involved. He goes with the approval, it is understood, of President Coolidge, who has been anxious to consummate the adherence of this country to the Court of International Justice, as it is more properly called. He goes, too, following a conference with President-Elect Herbert Hoover, although it has not been disclosed what subjects Mr. Root took up with the next president at the time he visited him here.

To no more able hands could such a mission be intrusted. Mr. Root has the knowledge and experience, coupled with the sense and poise required. The stumbling block which has so far prevented the final entry of this country into the court as a member nation has been reservation, No. 5, adopted by the senate when that body put through the resolution of ratification at the behest of President Coolidge. This reservation would prevent the World court from handing down advisory opinions for the benefit of the League of Nations in matters in which the United States has or claims to have a special interest, without the consent of the United States. The senate stood firm for this reservation, although it was argued that it was not necessary at the time of its adoption. There is no indication now, it is said, that the senate will yield its earlier opinion.

Mr. Root's mission is to make the powers already members of the World court understand that this reservation of the United States is really no bar to its participation in the World court, an end which has been desired abroad as well as in this country.

The belief is expressed that Mr. Root, under the circumstances, has an excellent chance of being successful in his mission. The United States along with the other nations of the world is entering up an agreement renouncing war as a means of settling international disputes. It is obvious that there must be some substitute, with perfected machinery, for handling disputes between nations if there is to be no resort to arms. The Permanent Court of International Justice presents such a means and the perfected machinery.

It is now three years since the senate ratified the World court protocol, with reservations. Only a few of the nations that are members of the court have agreed to adherence by the United States with these reservations. The more important powers have balked. If Mr. Root is successful in his mission it will be another triumph for the veteran statesman.—Washington Star.

THE MAGIC OF LINDBERGH.

There is something that suggests the occult—the word "occult" being a synonym for anything that we can not understand—about the way in which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh holds the post of national hero with anything whatever that he does. He is at this moment flying over Central America. He has flown over it before. But does the public regard the feat merely as a more or less tedious second ringing of the first bell? It is not. The people get the same thrill over the performance that they got when he did it for the first time. It is enough that it is Lindbergh who does it.

Perhaps the psychology of this inexhaustible interest is not difficult to trace. Everybody is convinced that Lindbergh's skill and peculiar sagacity are such that he can fly when and where he pleases without mischance or detention—over Central American volcanoes and interminable, impenetrable jungles; over oceans and over bandits' dens; that he knows his exact way through fogs and storms; that not only will he land where he says he will land at the moment when he says he will get there, but that he has a weird sort of provision for surmounting even an unforeseen contingency. And this faculty, in a fallible world, can never grow commonplace. All this is indicated in his history and career. Yet the wonder of it persists in spite of all repetition of his feats. The fact does not have to be "news;" Lindbergh himself is the news.

We have noted the case of the people who think that an angel flies just in advance of this young man's propeller and guides and makes him secure by supernatural power. The ordinary person does not indeed require the explanation of the angel. The miracles lies in Lindbergh's combination of skill and brain. Our hero is human. He is the supreme doer—and he is American. That is enough to insure him a position on the first page. We do not need the "occult" to keep him there.—Boston Transcript, February 6.

The word was unto me for joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by Thy name, O Lord God of hosts.—Jeremiah 15:16.

The Celestial Revolution.

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

"Your articles are a great help in my work. I am a student in Ardmore [illegible] this village. A short time ago the question came up whether the stars and constellations move about in the celestial sphere. Nobody seemed to be able to give a definite answer. Would you please tell me about this?"

"H. A., Villa Park, Illinois."

By the celestial sphere is meant the sky which surrounds us on all sides like the inside surface of a vast, round dome. The stars and constellations, which are fancied figures that seem to be outlined by the stars, appear like points of light attached to the celestial sphere, as if they were some of the lamps of various degrees of brightness.

The sky therefore resembles a vast dome-shaped roof in which these lamp-like stars are fixed, and this roof appears to revolve continually around the earth, carrying the stars with it. They keep their positions unchanged with reference to one another, by the revolution of the dome causes them all to move, all together, in a direction from east to west. Since they all move in step they can not be said to "move about," i. e., move about in the celestial sphere. What they do is only to travel with that sphere. They are called "fixed stars" to distinguish them from a few other objects which resemble them, but differ from stars by really moving about, more or less. These are the planets, of which our earth, from which we behold the spectacle, is one. There are eight principal planets, of which only five are bright enough to be visible to the naked eye.

The fixed stars, which comprise nearly all the star-like objects that we see in the heavens, and of which several thousand are visible to the naked eye, are extremely distant suns. If we could put our sun as far away as they are it, too, would appear a mere point of light.

But the planets are, comparatively, very near by, and like the earth they all revolve around the sun. It is in consequence of this revolution that they appear to move irregularly among the stars, which form an unchangeable background.

But now I must remind you that the motion of the celestial sphere, carrying along the stars with it from east to west, is only an apparent revolution, a "relativity effect," arising from the real relation of the earth from which we look out. The earth's daily rotation carries us around from west to east. In other words, we live on a huge ball which turns on itself in the center of the celestial sphere and makes that sphere, which, in fact, has no such motion, appear to revolve around us from east to west.

Now, this revolution causes the wandering planets, as well as the fixed stars, to seem to go round and round the earth. It also causes the sun to seem to travel around us, rising in the east and setting in the west. The sun really stands still, as far as the earth is concerned, and it is only the rotation of the earth that makes it appear to move.

But, although the apparent revolution of the celestial sphere carries the planets around the sky, just as it carries the fixed stars, yet owing to the independent and real motions which they have in traveling around the sun the planets do not keep step with the stars, but seem to move now faster and now slower, and at certain times even appear to move backward on the dome of the sky.

These apparently complicated motions will appear clear to you when you begin to study elementary astronomy, as I hope you will not fail to do. — Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

January carried the birthday of Robert Burns, whom Carlyle called, "the greatest Scotchman who ever lived." It was he who illuminated life's commonplaces and experiences with the beauty of words, imagination and love. Burns was great in humanity. He was great in his understanding of the common people—and most of us are common people. He was great in his knowledge of the heart of man. Read Burns:

"'Tis thus the royal mandate ran,
When first the human race began,
The social, friendly, honest man,
What'ere he be—
'Tis he fulfills great Nature's plan,
And none but he."

A Japanese Rotarian by the name of Miyoka says: "There are no boundaries or sovereignties in our brotherhood. If the same feeling which characterizes us characterized the actions of government, there would be no international questions." What is made by the spirit of national leaders.

Rarely do the people force nations into war. Leaders may wish to have it appear that they are in the hands of the people, but too often that is by no means the case. They may be far ahead or far behind the people. The overwhelming power for international peace lies in leadership.

Preachers are sometimes criticized for being too popular in their approach and appeal. Others are criticized for being so highbrow that many in the congregation do not know what the minister is talking about. It seems to the writer that the best preacher is one who has exceedingly good cookies, but puts them on the lower shelf.

Is it not possible to keep the idea up and the language down? The finest principles, the most lofty idealism, simply expressed, so that all can understand, is immeasurably more effective than the same principles and idealism abstractly and opaquely expressed.

Language is learned from the best writers. Read the best writers carefully, slowly, over and over. And remember when you pick up a book to put this question to yourself: "Have I time for this? If I read this I can't read that."

MARKETS CLOSED

Business Pressure and Flu Cause Action to be Taken

NEW YORK Feb. 9—The New York Stock Exchange and the curb market here today will remain closed. All commodity markets remain open as usual and the banks and clearing house are also open for business.
Decision to close the stock exchange today was based on the prevalence of the flu epidemic among the Wall Street clerks and the heavy pressure of clerical work forced by the big markets of the last two weeks.
Further Saturday closings may be ordered if business on the big board continues at the current high rate.

MANSFIELD QUINTET WINS FIRST GAME, DEFEATING GALION

Shelby Trimmed, 37-16, Loop Championship Still Unsettled

FOR the first time since the season got into full swing one team is on top of the standings of the North Central Ohio basketball league Mansfield stepping out to win its first loop game, last night defeated Galion while Bucyrus was taking Shelby into camp The Crawford county team is now leading the league with three victories

Under the present conditions but three things can happen to the pennant of this league Luther Gehlon of Bucyrus can win first place if the two teams end in a tie

Bucyrus is favored to win the title but must win its remaining games with Ashland and Galion or lose to Ashland and beat Galion Both games are scheduled on foreign courts for the Winter couched five If Galion is to win Bucyrus must lose both games If the league champion hip is to end in a tie Bucyrus must beat Ashland and lose to Galion

The best Harding can do provided it wins from Shelby next week is to tie for second place in the league standings The worst if one must bring that up is to tie for fourth place

At Galion last night it took Mansfield a five minute overtime period to chalk up its first victory of the season 17 to 16 It was the first league defeat for Galion this year

Sharp was the principal cog in Mansfield getting nine points four field baskets and a free annex each foul Will noon a new center had of Coach Murphy netted six points Mackey was high man for Galion with Callender and Hockstra running close seconds

Bucyrus had no trouble keeping its slate clean last night turning in a neat 37 to 16 victory over Shelby Monnette looked over the basket plenty often to count 10 points Leith connected for 11 points Peters Shelby guard was high for his team with eight points

The Pleasant girls kept in second place with their win and are a half a game behind the Kirkpatrick crew Court Pleasant center was too much for the Claridon team scoring points on 10 field goals and two fouls F Kramer led the losers with ten points

Martel boys stayed one game behind the Waldo five by taking a 23 to 21 thriller from Kirkpatrick Waldo has taken five games without a reverse while the Martel team has won the same number while dropping two Hershner Martel forward was hot scoring four field goals and a like number of fouls The Kirkpatrick quint stayed at the top of the loop by its 20 to 10 win over the Martel girls The losing team has a record of two and five for the season so far Lemke led the winners with 14 points last night

JOHN SIMPSON FIVE TAKES MEASURE OF CENTRAL, 22 TO 18

Luckie, Mansfield Center, Scores 12 Points In Contest at Y. M C A

LUCKIE the Mansfield colored center apparently was in good trading with his favorite ratbait for the last night when he scored 12 points to send his John Simpson Junior high school quintet to a 22 to 18 victory over the Marion Central Juniors at the Y M C A

Getting off to a bad start in the first half when Mansfield piled up a 12 to 0 score Central was unable to overcome the big lead in the last half The locals in the final round outscored their opponents 13 to 9 At one point Central trailed Mansfield but two points

Luckie's performance was the outstanding feature of the game He obtained most of his goals under the basket and his floor work was exceptionally good

Most of the fouls at long goal let the Marion lads in the ring while Kinnard and Chrisman kept up four points

Mansfield has not been defeated this season In addition to a victory over Galion it holds two decisions over the local Vernon Heights school

In the preliminary the Main Assembly was beaten by Room 21 17 to 5 Jones led the losers with 11 points

Y-INDUS SWAMPED BY LATE RALLY OF HEIDELBERG FROSH

Locals Hold One-Point Lead When Opponents Break Loose

SCORING five buckets in the closing five minutes of play the freshman basketball team of Heidelberg college sank the hopes of the Marion Y Indians engagers in their class at Tiffin last night in a 22 to 21 score The game which was played as a preliminary to the varsity Muskingum game was fast all the way and was tied up at several times

The Indianites started out strong scoring four counters before the locals got started With about four minutes to go in the first half and the score eight to one against them the Y cagers went on a scoring spree to tie up the game into the proverbial knot at nine all at the half way mark The game went well into the last period before the home team began to draw away The score stood at 12 apiece when Charlie Osterholt Marion center was removed on fouls Immediately following his leaving the game the home cagers proceeded to do the vanishing stunt and the next thing the Locals knew the game was over

Yourest the huge center on the college five was the star of the classical player on the floor and led the final attack that won the game He scored 10 points on five fielders during the game besides displaying a fine floor game and defensive work Overholt and Crum were high men for the Y Indians quintet with two points each Overholt scored all his points in the first half while Crum pounded three in the final session

St Anthony Lads Manage To Evade Marion Defense for Three Baskets

(Special to The Star)

KENTON Feb 9—Efforts of the "Fighting Irish" of Marion St Mary's to even up matters with the Kenton St Anthony Institute basketball team failed last night when they were defeated 11 to 9 in a hard fought battle on the Parochial school court at Kenton

In an earlier game St Mary's lost to Kenton 22 to 10 on their own floor

The scoring Friedel brothers—Charlie and Mat—turned the trick for Kenton after the Marion team had led in the scoring from the middle of the second quarter With only a few minutes left to play the Friedel boys managed to evade the Marion defense for three close up shots that netted as many baskets.

Play Great Game

The contest was one of the greatest court exhibitions ever witnessed in Kenton Brilliant offensive and defensive playing was presented by both clubs but no effective was the defense that neither team was able to get more than five or six close-in shots at the basket

At the close of the opening quarter the score stood one all each team scoring a free throw Tobin Marion's speedy guard put his team to the fore in the second quarter when he looped a nice field goal after a brilliant play through Kenton's defense. Kenton was held scoreless

Boost Marion Score

In the third frame Horauch scored two free throws while Kelly looped in a field shot increasing the Marion score to seven Bernard a long shot for a field goal and a free throw by Gelhaus advanced Kenton's score to four at the close of the quarter

Dillinger at the opening of the last frame scored a free throw while Charlie Friedel followed with a free throw and then two field baskets in succession giving Kenton a 9 to 8 lead Kelly then tied the score with a free throw In the last minutes of play Mat Friedel cinched the game for Kenton with a field goal The summaries

What Does Vitaphone Mean to Me?

The importance of the Vitaphone to the theatregoer can not be too greatly stressed. Preceding articles have enumerated what this great instrument accomplishes and you have also read of the famous artists who through it can be both seen and heard.

In brief the Vitaphone affords you the astounding opportunity of seeing and hearing these great stars all as part of the programme in conjunction with the regular photoplays at the Palace Theatre.

Were any of these stars presented here in person it would mean that you would have to pay at least three to ten dollars to hear them. But through this phenomenal invention, the initial cost of which alone is nearly fifty thousand dollars, they will appear on the screen and you can both see and hear them as though they appeared before you in person.

WATCH FOR FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS OF THIS GREAT INVENTION

KING BEARS TRIP TO SUSSEX COAST WELL

Crowd About Palace Sends Up Tremendous Cheer as Monarch Appears

MIDWICK England Feb 9—King George took up his new residence in Craigwell house on the Sussex coast this afternoon for complete rest from his long illness

The king arrived in an ambulance from London at 1 24 o'clock Queen Mary who had arrived in a limousine at 1 05 superintended the removal of the king from the ambulance to his quarters

It was understood that the king bore the journey from London well

The approaches to the estate were lined with bunting Residents of neighboring villages gave a subdued cheer as the ambulance turned into the private roadway to the estate and school children waved Union Jacks

His majesty waved his hand to a huge throng which had gathered outside the palace gates early in the morning, to witness his departure from London

The crowd about the palace had been warned to stand in absolute silence in order not to disturb the king

But the sight of their beloved monarch waving to them after having been so close to death was too much for those in the waiting throng and a tremendous cheer went up as the ambulance came through the main gate

Phone [illegible]

This picture shows you in diagram form one of the millions of dirt pockets found in rugs by the innumerable yarn strands of which floor coverings are made Beating is necessary to vibrate the dirt in these pockets to the surface so that it can be suctioned away.

Below the Dust Lin

THE light surface dust on your floor coverings is something you can see When it is gone, you think your rug is clean

But below this dust line, this surface layer of harmless dirt, is filth you never see Filth of the most dangerous character Grit that relentlessly destroys your rugs

This is the dirt that ordinary cleaning fails to remove Week after week, it piles up below the dust line It cakes into greasy masses at the bottom of the pile It packs into the myriads of pockets between the threads It is sharp, heavy grit whose knife like edges saw and grind, cutting and wearing through the fibers of the fabric every time some one walks over the rug, every time a piece of furniture is moved across it.

It must be dislodged from the base of the rug before it can be removed It must be beaten out of the pockets—shaken loose from the fibers—danced to the surface

There suction can gather it up But suction cannot beat it out or vibrate it to the surface A totally different cleaning principle is needed to dislodge it—"Positive Agitation"

"Positive Agitation" is found only in The Hoover It enables The Hoover to remove more dirt per minute than any other cleaner And it is the only cleaning principle which will keep your rugs clean below the dust line

Ask us for a demonstration of "Positive Agitation" Three Hoover models, $59 50, $75 and $135 With dusting tools, $72, $87 50 and $150. Floor Polisher, $7 50. Only $6 25 down. Liberal allowance for your old cleaner

Says 40,000,000 Persons in United States Radio Fans; Are Aid to Business

Sarnoff of Radio Corporation of America Traces History of Industry from 1909 When Famous Distress Call from Sinking Ship Was Made

...development of radio broadcasting as a service to the public or for the phenomenal growth in the manufacture and distribution of radio equipment as an industrial achievement. It is little more than a decade in the radio industry has developed an annual gross value in excess of $400,000,000 annually. Today radio receiving sets are in 10,000,000 homes in the United States, he declared, and more than 40,000,000 persons enjoy broadcast programs, Sarnoff said.

"Paid has been whatever it has to sell. It has a common basis with the plan that lasts in the newspaper, of magazine and the billboard in the home. With the last two years radio has created a breed of fans of the motion picture addict. It has brought sound to the screen through the vacuum tube, the photo-electric cell and the loudspeaker. Already the two elements, sound and motion, have been wedded into a new form of dramatic expression.

"Television may be lagging on the wind a pace—but that is the most that can be said about it. Experimental events have labored hard to bring it into the world a vast assemblage of relatives and friends stand ready to greet it. It carries the highest fulfillment of radio communication—the transmission of sound and reception of radio both of sound and sight.

"But the fact remains that the infant is still too delicate for any but laboratory treatment. An organized and dependable radio service for the communication of sight as well as sound is not yet within the corner but the future of this service is bright with promise.

"The regular exchange of broadcasting service are between nations and nations that will make for greater variety of entertainment, education and cultural features and will bring about a more solid understanding between peoples—the spectacle as well as the sounds of life brought to us at the theater by radio television—the scenes and sights of the world reproduced on much larger screens and in natural colors—three dimensional or stereoscope projection if you please which with color and speech would make the fleeting visions on the screen palpitate with the reality and expression of life—are new educational and cultural services which high facilities are bound to call into being."

BIRTHDAY OF EDISON WILL BE BROADCAST

FORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 9—A national wide hookup of 26 stations has been arranged for broadcasting the ceremonies at the eighty-second birthday party here next Monday for Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, it was learned today.

SAYS RADIO POWER TO DRIVE AUTOS

Indianapolis Motor Company Man Makes Prediction Cites Progress

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9—The automobile of the future will be powered with an electric motor driven by impulses from a central power station through radio, C. M. Williams, president of the Marmon Motor Car Co., predicted here in comparing the advance of the 1929 motor car over its predecessor of 1900.

The present type of automobile, powered with the internal combustion engine will become as obsolete as the dodo bird, Williams asserted.

Williams' statement, he said, was based on experiments now being conducted by engineers in the laboratories of the Marmon Motor Car Co.

While I do not mean to imply that all persons in making a purchase of a new car will be influenced by the power to be developed by the motor, I would say that possibly during the next generation and most certainly within the 20th century the present type of internal combustion engine will become obsolete," Williams said. "It may seem inconsistent for a manufacturer of internal combustion motors to state that within a century practically every automobile will be operated with an electric motor, but I believe that the source of power for these electric motors will be largely central generating stations. Such an automobile power will be transmitted by radio, directly to the car itself.

The Marmon president predicted that every car will have an individual radio receiving set by which owners will receive regularly such programs as they desire. Such a set, he said, would eliminate 90 per cent of the present engine noises, making it possible to travel in all comfort.

WORLD WILL LISTEN TO HOOVER ADDRESS

Inaugural Program March 4 To Be Broadcast in Foreign Countries

PICTURES FUTURE

Speaker Says Nations Will Exchange Important Radio Programs

The voice of Herbert Hoover delivering his inaugural address March 4 will be heard around the globe through the national broadcasts of the National Broadcasting company's program, M. H. Aylesworth told the New York Electrical society and the New York section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

"Actual reception of the proceedings will be more vitally interesting when the inaugural parade from Capitol hill will be heard by 50 million listeners in the United States and millions of others in foreign countries," said Mr. Aylesworth.

International Radio Here

"The law of international broadcasts has arrived," the speaker said. "It is interesting to the present technical minds in the NBC's coast to coast system that after a program from London last night, I will send an address by President Coolidge."

Mr. Aylesworth said in part:

"Recently we have had a striking demonstration of international broadcasting. A speech by the President of the United States heard all over this country was followed within a few seconds by a program coming to us from England.

"The programs in America are heard with regularity in Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, New Zealand and South America. We have arrived at the point where radio communication to the masses of other nations is an accomplished fact.

Receive London Regularly

"At the National Broadcasting Company's local studios in 711th avenue we receive five days a week programs presented by the British broadcasting corp. Frequently we hear them with almost the clarity of a local station. The programs are received here in the late afternoon although they are produced in England five hours later in the evening—London time.

"We visualize in the not distant future an interchange of programs with other nations—chiefly English speaking countries—which will be available to American listeners. We hope that the time is near when responsible representatives of the United States will be able to address simultaneously the people of several nations and representatives of other nations will speak to their own people and to ours at the same time.

"We look forward to a stronger union than that of hands across the sea. We foresee a union that will grow from voices across the sea whereby communications between us all will be available to all the peoples of all the nations.

"There is a community of interest between people who have had the same or similar experiences. It is manifested in many ways. For instance, it is interesting to meet a stranger who has been in the same small town or stayed at the same hotel in a remote place, or climbed the same mountain as one's self."

ON RADIO BILLS

"The Joy of Living" might properly be the meaningful title of the musical program to be broadcast during the Majestic Radio Hour commencing at 9 o'clock Eastern Standard Time each Sunday night over the Columbia Chain of 47 stations.

Arnold Johnson's interpretations of the old songs and tunes as well as those very modern ones that indefinable something that appeals to us all and contributes much to our joy and pleasure in being alive in this wonderful Radio Age.

OLD MELODIES BEST IN MISSOURI STUDIO

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 9—Dance tunes of the hoop skirt age have been found more popular than jazz in at least one of the nation's radio stations.

Hearts of flaming youth may not flutter to music of the 90s, says C. P. Anderson, director of WOS, but he has found the wards of the "older generation" who favor songs of yester-year.

"There is no jazz craze at WOS," he says. "Unless we run out of entertainers we'll continue to fill out programs with old melodies."
